

News Release dated 22 December 2010

The RDI is always delighted to receive positive feedback about the installers who are registered with the licensing body. This month a thank you was received about Get Digital Now Ltd of Ware in Hertfordshire.

The customer said that the installer was knowledgeable, quick and efficient and that the signal he was now receiving had greatly improved.

Get Digital Now Ltd specialises in the installation and maintenance of all digital and satellite services to both residential users and businesses across the UK.

The photograph below is of Alistair Vanstone, Managing Director (on the left) and Charles Southwell the installer who did the work the praise was received for.

For further information visit <http://www.getdigitalnow.co.uk/> or contact the company on telephone number 01920 860 800.